

VETERANS HONOR ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Patriotic Societies Unite to Celebrate Birth of the Emancipator.

TRIBUTES TO HIS MEMORY.

Speakers Praise the Life and Accomplishments of the Man Who Rose From Humble Surroundings.

The Lincoln centenary exercises at Armory hall last evening were largely attended and intensely interesting throughout. The program as announced in last evening's "News" was carried out without deviation, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Post Commander R. G. Slater, of the G. A. R., presided, and besides the members of that organization, other patriotic societies took direct part in the function, namely, the Spanish War veterans, Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the G. A. R., Auxiliaries and Indian War Veterans. Prayer was offered by Rev. F. M. Helms, selections were rendered by the Ladies G. A. R. band, solos were sung by Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris, Victor Christopherson and Howard Don, and recitations were given by Miss Virginia H. Davis, Ruby Land and Harold Madsen. A feature of the evening was the singing of patriotic songs by the audience, Captain F. M. Bishop leading the band. The color guard, consisting of a number of pleasing selections.

The speakers of the evening were Col. M. M. Kalign, Rev. P. A. Simpkins, Col. F. M. Helms and J. E. Davis. Col. Kalign read a portion of the speech delivered by President Roosevelt yesterday at Hodgenville, Ky., the birthplace of the immortal Lincoln.

COL. KALIGN'S SPEECH.

Col. Kalign said:

In the realm of nature, we find in various portions of the earth, ranges of mountains rising above the surrounding valleys and plains, with certain peaks that tower high above and dominate their fellows, extending above the clouds that obscure and the storms that rage in lower altitudes.

These lofty peaks are eternally bathed by the golden sunshine by day and by the crystal light of the stars by night. They seem to be in league with the mighty forces of nature. In their foundations the earthquake groans and crashes and from their summits the volcano thunders and roars.

So in human affairs in all nations and in all times we find men endowed with superior powers who have risen, towered above and dominated their fellows. They, too, seemed to be in touch with and to command the world's tremendous forces. The world's history has developed in all the various spheres of human activity. Some of them have been blessed and elevated the race. They have done quite the reverse. They have sought and have won, and used their times and left their impress upon humanity. As we dwell upon this theme, the names of many of these giants, rise in our memory. We recall Confucius, Mohamet, the Christ, Aristotle, Plato, Marcus, Julius Caesar, Hannibal, Cyrus, Alexander, Frederick the Great, Marlboro, Wellington, Cromwell, Napoleon Bonaparte, Bismarck, Von Moltke and George Washington.

GRANT AND LINCOLN.

Coming down to our own time and country, the two great names that at once command our attention are Ulysses S. Grant and Abraham Lincoln. Names that will loom great and high in all the ages to come, inseparably linked in their greatness and glory.

We are assembled tonight to do honor to the latter, Abraham Lincoln! What a glory enshines and hallows his sacred memory. At the recollection of this man, tears come unbidden to my eyes and my heart rises in my throat. For I have personal contact with him in the latter years of the war and up to the time of his death. Scores of times have I held in mine, his good right hand, the hand that signed the proclamation that gave freedom to 4,000,000 slaves, and I learned

Bad Breath and Sour Stomach

Stopped At Once With Pure Willow Charcoal, the Greatest Gas Absorber Known.

There is no necessity to suffer the humiliation, the breath of the mouth, flatulence, sour stomach, gastritis, sluggish liver, etc., when a little lozenge of charcoal will cleanse the stomach and make it pure and sweet.

Do not drug yourself when a simple little natural charcoal made from fragrant willow branches, sweetened with honey, will add tone to your stomach, liver and intestines, rapidly remove those gas and stop foul odors of all kinds.

Charcoal will absorb one hundred times its own volume in gas. A box full of charcoal put in your room will keep the air of such a room pure and sweet.

A little charcoal lozenge dissolved on the tongue after meals will also remove the breath, the flatulence, the sour stomach, fresh and clean. Charcoal is justly called the scrubbing brush for the stomach. The old monks of medieval times cured bad cases of stomach trouble, catarrh and indigestion from the system of man by feeding such a man charcoal.

Scientific men of today believe in the great strength of charcoal for the cure of human ills. Two much of it cannot harm one. The system craves it just like an animal needs and craves salt every so often. Charcoal goes into the stomach gently and is welcome, it settles down through the folds of the stomach, and filters through all the food, absorbing gas, aiding digestion and giving tone to the juices, so that when the food goes into the intestines, and there meets the digestive fluids, the charcoal holds the impurities and thus keeps them from the blood.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow. They are prepared by the use of honey and sweetened so they please the taste and are easily dissolved.

They have an enormous sale, thus stamping them with the approval of the public. Every druggist sells them. 75 cents per box. Go to your druggist today and buy a box; then after your next meal take two or three of them and judge for yourself of their merit. Several taken at bed time will prove to you in the morning that they have been at work all night, for your bad breath will not be so bad after all.

Send for your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address P. A. Stuart Co., 209 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Feel Better, Look Better, Eat and Sleep Better

Hood's Sarsaparilla will renew your vigor and vim, clear your complexion and improve your color, increase your appetite and aid your digestion, and make your sleep refreshing.

It multiplies and develops the red blood corpuscles, gives health and strength to the white corpuscles, and is the greatest curative, tonic and preventive medicine the world has ever known.

It is scientifically established that pure blood is indispensable to the proper performance of any function of the body.

Without it, neither the stomach, liver, kidneys nor bowels, nor any other bodily organ can work well.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood, and it is in doing this that it accomplishes so much.

It eradicates scrofula and all other humors, cures eczema or salt rheum, catarrh, rheumatism, and dyspepsia, relieves that tired feeling, and builds up the whole system.

It gives the best possible protection against all infections and contagious diseases, by making the white blood corpuscles healthy and strong so that they can destroy disease germs which attack the red blood corpuscles and bodily tissues.

"My appetite was gone and I was in an unstrung nervous condition, unable to sleep, I became thin, pale and looked ten years older."

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to perfect health. It aided the worn-out nerves of my digestive organs to do their duty. I slept peacefully the entire night, and now I feel new life and vitality course through my veins. Within six weeks I was once more my former self and have for the past year enjoyed the best of health."

JULIA C. TROEN, Atlantic City, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla, but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 29 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this regular combination. These ingredients are the very remedies that successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments. There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the only preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Get it in the usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs. 100 Doses One Dollar.

ed to regard him with wonder and devotion, almost idolatry.

What a marvelous history is his. Born 100 years ago in a log cabin in a remote and sterile part of Kentucky; in poverty and squalor, of humble, uneducated and unambitious parents in a neighborhood without books or schools or elevating influences or surroundings; or opportunities for education; both to a life of grinding poverty and ill requited toil. We see him walking miles to school books and at night, after the day's labor was over, lying prone on the puncheon floor of the log cabin, reading and studying by the flickering light of the wood fire, the rudiments of the alphabet; to nature; gathering knowledge and wisdom day by day. Later a captain in the Black Hawk Indian war; a surveyor; a member of the legislature; a member of Congress; then an attorney of the famous and popular Senator Stephen A. Douglas, in a debating tour through Illinois, in a contest for the United States senatorship; later the nominee over Seward and Chase and other leaders of his party, for the presidency; his election, re-election, freeing the slaves, his successfully conducting the war, and then also a tragic death.

TWO COUSINS OF LINCOLN.

Present at Memorial Services Held by Daughters of Mormon Battalion.

Yesterday the Daughters of the Mormon Battalion met at the home of Mrs. M. A. West, 1089 Second avenue. It being the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, the afternoon was devoted to exercises commemorating his life and labors. The following program was rendered: "The Perfect Tribute," read by Mrs. Hattie Pickett, the poem, "Lincoln's Funeral," composed by Sarah E. Clavson, "Tributes to Lincoln," given by each member present, in response to roll call. Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris sang, "The Flag of Abraham Lincoln." After the rendition of the above program, refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Daughters of the Mormon Battalion is probably the only society holding memorial services yesterday in this city, in celebration of Lincoln's birthday, which has the honor of membership of two cousins of Abraham Lincoln. They are Mrs. Clara Hanks Felt and Mrs. Marcia Hanks Hyde.

SPECIAL SERVICES.

Parents' Class Work Subject in Eleventh Ward Tomorrow Evening.

Special services in the interest of the parents' class of the Eleventh ward Sunday school will be held in the meetinghouse tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. This class is attracting much attention recently, the numbers increasing every week. Under the instruction of Drs. Middleton and Scofield, valuable work is being performed, and those who attend the class are always desirous of being regular students. To further encourage this deep interest, Supr. Johnson, through the kindness of Bishop Robert Morris, has dedicated the time of the regular Sunday service to the purpose stated. The speakers will be Drs. Middleton and Scofield, and besides this an excellent program of instrumental and vocal music has been prepared.

The parents of the ward in particular, and the public in general, are invited to be present.

FEDERATION RESENTS SENTENCE OF LEADERS

Resolutions Adopted Last Night Will Be Forwarded to A. F. of L. at Washington.

Resolutions protesting against the sentence imposed upon Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison were passed by the Salt Lake Federation of Labor last night. The resolution will be forwarded to the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor in Washington. Many speeches were made in support of the resolution, which follows:

The Salt Lake Federation of Labor, representing 2,500 affiliated members, hereby vigorously protests against the unconstitutional and outrageous sentence of imprisonment imposed on Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison by the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

We emphatically assert that these representatives of labor have committed no crime, have violated no law, but have been within the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution of the United States, freedom of speech and freedom of press.

We believe the decision was intended to be a blow toward organized labor, but it will fail in this.

We tender Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison our undivided support and we demand that the unjust decision be overruled and that justice be granted.

The legislative committee also reported its progress with the legislature thus far. The eight-hour law and convict labor proposition on county roads were referred to the committee on labor. Action was urged on the bill providing for complete vestibules for motormen. J. E. Clark, on behalf of the management of the New Lyric theater, extended an invitation to the federation to send the theater at an early date. Membership cards are to be sufficient credentials for admission. The offer was accepted.

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE.

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolongs life and makes it better living. It purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, rebuilds wasted nerve cells, restores life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak, sick and debilitated people. "Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me. "Electric Bitters cured me entirely." Only 50c. at Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112-114 So. CONVENTION IN FEBRUARY.

Supr. Nelson Will Attend Notable Gathering of Educators.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction A. C. Nelson is making preparations to attend the annual meeting to be held in Chicago on Feb. 23, 24, and 25 of the department of superintendence of the National Educational association, of which he is secretary. Plans have been arranged to present an exceptional and program, which will include papers and addresses by some of the best known educators in the country.

The association will hold a joint session with the American School Hygiene association on Feb. 24, at which time topics of general importance to school work will be discussed. The National Society for the Scientific Study of Education will meet during the week; also the Society of College Teachers of Education and the national committee on agricultural education.

Superintendent Nelson expects to attend the meetings of the different associations and it is possible that Utah will be represented in all the conventions.

TRIP TO CUTOFF A GREAT SUCCESS

At Midlake the Water Gave Every Junketer a Glimpse of Rough Sea.

WERE ON PLEASURE BENT

Not An Official Excursion, but An Enjoyable Time With Rest From Work for the Holiday.

Salt Lakeans who feel that theirs is an inland city far removed from sea coast, briny winds, and the tumult of waters lashed by storms, ought to take a short vacation over the Great Salt Lake cutoff.

At Midlake yesterday afternoon enough people to fill five cars of an Oregon Short Line special train poured out of their cars upon the narrow strip of made land where trains may pass each other. On each side the restless waves of ocean proportion betokened the presence of what a sailor might call foul weather. And it was the kind of a gale that one never gets in entirely inland country—a wind saturated with bracing ozone, and streaming along at a gale that indicated its complete joy in teasing streaky whitecaps out of the water.

A large boat, a group of tugs, and a smaller collection of row-boats, each one straining at its anchor ropes, as it tossed above the heavy billows, completed the ocean suggestion. Only the presence of pleasure craft with flags fluttering, and shooting little launches to denote that people made use of their sailing, was missing. To everyone the impressiveness of the lake when one may see it in such extensive reaches was apparent. The legislators who made up the special train talked about it a little while, and then, and much more while returning.

Their conclusions were that it is altogether too great an asset to the state to let its waters pitch and toss along for long, and that within a very few years Salt Lake should wake up to the chance afforded to bedeck the city's skyline with pleasure craft, and some of the islands with pleasure retreats where the people of the great city that is building can find for sanctuary from their business cares and the routine of office duties.

Yesterday's trip of legislative members was not an official junket, afforded no opportunity to get on to the water, but the view of it where it completely surrounded the spectator thrilled everyone on the excursion. The trip was seven hours in length. Two of these hours were spent in Ogden, where an enjoyable lunch was served at the depot cafe. By 3:30 p. m. the party was "going to sea by rail," and at 4 o'clock were aloft at the Midlake station, where a group photograph was taken. The return run commenced shortly before 5 o'clock and after a brief stop in Ogden the train was brought speedily back to Salt Lake in time to reach the city before home.

TRIP WELL HANDLED.

Much of the trip comforts were due to the able supervision of Asst. General Passenger Agt. D. S. Spencer, but in this work he was seconded efficiently by Supt. Stevenson of the Utah division of the Oregon Short Line. Engineer J. H. Hopperley and Fireman R. M. Mann. The trip was extended only to midlake on account of the fact that a number of the legislators were scheduled to undertake a Green River trip this evening, and had to be back in order to catch a 7 o'clock train. The distance, however, was sufficient to afford everyone an opportunity to see what the cutoff has accomplished and to satisfy them that they had seen one of the age's engineering marvels.

DAVIS WAS PRESENT.

J. N. Davis of Vernal, Utah, calls the attention of the "News" to an error in the report of the house vote on the Cannon prohibition bill. He is reported as having been absent from the session, while Mr. Davis remained and not only voted but made a speech explaining his vote when he cast it. The two representatives who did not vote on the measure were J. W. Thornley and R. J. Dyring. Both were in favor of the bill but were absent for unavoidable reasons.

AUDITORS KEPT BUSY.

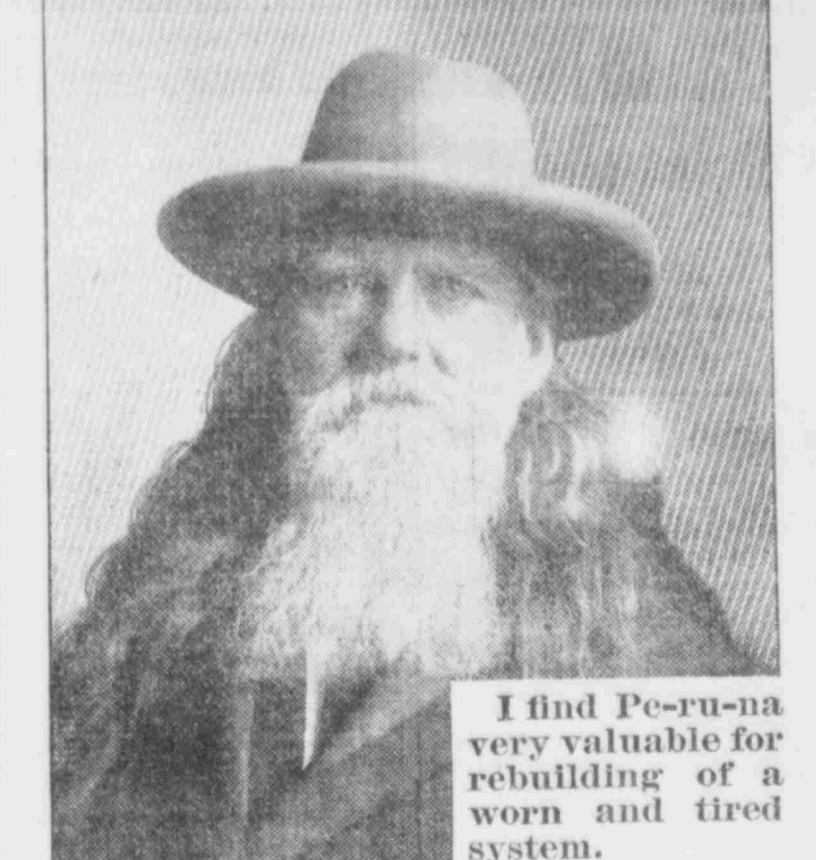

The auditing department of the Short Line has just closed 16 days of extra hard work, expending a special call can be done to enlighten the room by hanging festoons of hearts around it. A quaint table decoration is made by transforming the whole table into a giant's old-fashioned valentine, with lacepaper edges and a picture cut out of one of the colored magazines laid on the center of the white table cloth. A verse of poetry can be placed under the picture or different verses be laid at the guests' plates. Tiny heart-shaped bonbon boxes are suitable souvenirs, and if the home poet can make rhymes

NEGROES HONOR LINCOLN.

The Lincoln centenary fair at the Calvary Baptist church was concluded last evening. The following program was given last night: Stories of Lincoln's life, told by Mrs. S. J. Stearns, Mrs. J. C. Stubble, at Chicago for facts and figures relative to traffic through the Portland gateway. The entire force is worked daily until 10 p. m. The urgency of the call necessitates setting the regular work for the time being.

IN WASHINGTON, D. C., EVERYBODY KNOWS

COL. WILLIAM CAMP.

I find Pe-ru-na very valuable for rebuilding of a worn and tired system.

CHIVALROUS, high-minded, impulsive, generous, courteous, courageous, loyal, a believer in good fellowship, a lover of home, magnanimous to enemies, true to friends, is a reputation that any man may well envy.

No man better exemplifies this description than Col. William Camp, whose testimonial is given below. His unique figure and charming personality is well known in the streets of the capital city of the United States. His word is as good as his bond. His frankness and truthfulness no one has ever questioned that knew him.

Read what he says concerning Peruna.

"I write to say that I have used Peruna and find it a very valuable remedy for coughs or colds and rebuilding of a worn and tired system, dissipating and eradicating that old tired feeling."—Col. William Camp, 1740 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

MR. CHAS. BROWN, Rogersville, Tenn., writes: "I feel it my duty to write you a few lines in praise of your Peruna. I have tried many different remedies, but have found that Peruna is the greatest tonic on earth, and a perfect system builder. A friend advised me to take Peruna for indigestion, and it cured me in a short time. I was very weak and nervous, could sleep but little at night, but Peruna cured that tired, all-gone feeling, and made me feel like a new man, so I heartily recommend it to all who are weak and run down. It will give new life and energy. I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, and will not forget to recommend it." Peruna is manufactured by the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio.

SUGGESTIVE FEATURES FOR VALENTINE PARTIES

THERE are many ways of breaking the ice at a St. Valentine's day entertainment. Probably the easiest is to have the names of the girls written on separate hearts, red ink on white hearts or white ink on red hearts. As your men guests arrive, take them to a basket in which the hearts with the names on them have been placed face downward. Let each man choose one heart and the girl whose name is found on the heart will be his partner for the evening. Another way is to tack to the wall or pin to a portiere a very large heart made of red crepe paper and surrounded with a garland of smilax; on this pin white slips with the names of the girls. Give a bow and arrow, either home-made or bought for 10 cents at a toy shop, to the men as they arrive and make each man take a shot at the heart, aiming as near as he can to the girl whom he chooses for a partner.

Good valentine games are hearts, ring games, the writing of original valentines and forfeits. The decorations and favors and prizes for games should be heart-shaped or should have some reference to the saint of the day. It is easy enough to make a heart-shaped center piece for the table either cut a heart-shaped box or by pinning a border of crepe paper or smilax into the shape of a big heart, fastening it to the tablecloth and filling the inside of the heart with red flowers, carnations or roses. The candle shades should be either white with small red hearts on them or rose with white hearts, and music can be done to enlighten the room by hanging festoons of hearts around it. A quaint table decoration is made by transforming the whole table into a giant's old-fashioned valentine, with lacepaper edges and a picture cut out of one of the colored magazines laid on the center of the white table cloth. A verse of poetry can be placed under the picture or different verses be laid at the guests' plates. Tiny heart-shaped bonbon boxes are suitable souvenirs, and if the home poet can make rhymes

HADDOCK FAMILY BENEFIT.

An excellent program has been arranged for the benefit concert for the widow and children of the late Benjamin J. Haddock, to be given in the Twenty-second ward meetinghouse, next Wednesday evening. Hugh Douglass and his pupils, including the prize winners in the last Eldestedford, will contribute to the evening's enjoyment. Several other splendid numbers have been arranged, and the event promises to be a thorough success.
